

Magic in the Twinkle Lights

To: Lilly

From: Benjamin

Merry Christmas, Lilly! you're my holiday magic!

Snowflakes tapping on the window pane. Lilly, you're humming to old holiday refrains. Tinsel tangled in your hair from laughing on the floor. Ornaments sparkle brighter than the year before. And the world outside could freeze, I wouldn't care. Long as you and me are hanging memories everywhere. Lilly, Christmas shines a little brighter when you're near. You fill this house with joy and love this time of year. Fuzzy socks and cocoa mugs, a twinkle in your eyes. Every wish I've ever made is standing by my side. Lilly, Christmas means you're here with me tonight. Boxes of glitter spill out across the room. You put the angel on the tree and suddenly it's June. In your laughter, there's a warmth that melts away the snow. Home is anywhere you are, wherever we may go. We turn the music up and let the magic start. You make every moment feel like Christmas in my heart. Lilly, Christmas shines a little brighter when you're near. You fill this house with joy and love this time of year. Fuzzy socks and cocoa mugs, a twinkle in your eyes. Every wish I've ever made is standing by my side. Lilly, Christmas means you're here with me tonight. Lights flicker softly on the tree we made together. If every day could feel like this, I'd want it to last forever. Snow outside, but inside love is glowing. With you, the season's magic keeps on growing. Lilly, Christmas shines a little brighter when you're near. You fill this house with joy and love this time of year. Fuzzy socks and cocoa mugs, a twinkle in your eyes. Every wish I've ever made is standing by my side. Lilly, Christmas means you're here with me tonight. Yes, Lilly, Christmas means you're here with me tonight.
