

Under Neon Skies

To: Zane

From: Kai

You and Me forever baby!

Starlight caught in our hair, Jumping waves of sound in the midnight air. First time I saw you underneath that electric sky, Heartbeat syncing with the bass, Right when you laughed, I knew my place. Dancing in the wild—just you and I. We were strangers burning like neon. Lost in the drop, but you kept me holding on. Zane, you light me up like the main stage. Shining brighter when we play. Matching LED bracelets in the crowd. Every color says, “We found. Our way”—I feel it when you look at me. Every moment, high on this energy. Zane, you turn the night into electricity. We’re unstoppable, you and me. Flashback to that very first song. Spinning under lasers, where we both belong. Your hand in mine, I swear this beat will never fade. Now every sun comes up too soon. But with you, I’m always in tune. Riding every drop, never afraid. We’re still strangers to the rest of the world. But with you, I’m seen, and I’m your girl. Zane, you light me up like the main stage. Shining brighter when we play. Matching LED bracelets in the crowd. Every color says, “We found. Our way”—I feel it when you look at me. Every moment, high on this energy. Zane, you turn the night into electricity. We’re unstoppable, you and me. Let the lights keep spinning, let the crowd fade away. It’s just us in the rhythm, and I want to stay. Two heartbeats in sync, every pulse, every sound. With you, I’m lost—and I’m finally found. Zane, you light me up like the main stage. Shining brighter when we play. Matching LED bracelets in the crowd. Every color says, “We found. Our way”—I feel it when you look at me. Every moment, high on this energy. Zane, you turn the night into electricity. We’re unstoppable, you and me. Matching LEDs, you and me. Turning every night into our own festival dream. Zane,

Swoonsong

you’re my electricity.
